NEW FOR 2026: WINNING MINDSET SERIES

Your ready to deliver performance solution

At Sporting Edge, we know one thing is true: mindset drives results. When your people think like winners, their behaviour, performance, and outcomes transform. To help your business to accelerate that change across 2026, we're launching a special, limited-time offer: Choose any three webinars from our curated list — all for £10,000.

This package gives you the flexibility to choose three titles that most resonate with your business needs and create a performance series that will deliver impact for your teams.

Expert Facilitator: Jeremy Snape

Jeremy has the combined experience of being a successful International cricketer and coach to provide innovative performance ideas for teams and leaders. He has the ability to draw upon real life examples from his playing and coaching career which are underpinned by his Master's Degree in Sport Psychology.

Jeremy has worked with some very successful corporate clients delivering team culture, leadership and executive coaching programmes. These include Bupa, Unilever, GSK, BMW, Salesforce and Uber.

On the sporting front Jeremy has held roles as Performance Coach to the South African Cricket Team as well as Shane Warne's victorious Rajasthan Royals in the Indian Premier League. Jeremy supported Crystal Palace in the run up to their FA Cup Final and worked with Eddie Jones for England Rugby during their unbeaten run of 18 matches. He's been a Non-Exec Director of the League Managers Association in elite football for over a decade supporting their leadership and management programmes. This role has seen him interview Pep Guardiola, Sir Alex Ferguson and Jose Mourinho. Jeremy is currently supporting an F1 team.

Jeremy has rapidly become one of the most recognised names in sport psychology, offering key insights to national newspapers, Sky Sports and BBC Radio 5 Live. His podcast series 'Inside the Mind of Champions' is a regular in the Apple Chart top 10 for Management. Most recently he was a speaker at the Drucker Forum alongside Simon Sinek.

Jeremy's unique expertise and ability to make sense of complex areas of performance is now yours to share through inspirational conference keynote speeches and webinars.
